Skipper of Lost Vessel Cites Boys' Courage

6 Missing, 13 Safe As Cruise Ship Sinks In Gulf of Mexico

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The skipper of the ill-fated student cruise ship Albatross today credited the refusal of the boys to panic for the fact that 13 survived when a sudden storm sank the vessel in the Gulf of Mexico.

Christopher B. Sheldon of Darien, Conn., was interviewed by The Associated Press in the stateroom of a rescue ship while cruising toward Tampa.

"The crew was very orderly about getting off the ship," he said. "This was the principle reason so many of us got off."

Six of the 19 aboard went down with the Albatross when a sub-tropical storm broke over the vessel without warning Tuesday and drove her to the bottom in one minute.

Ten of the survivors are boys, ranging in age from 15 to 18. Most are from wealthy families.

Four of the dead were classmates. The others were a cook and Dr. N. Alice Sheldon, wife of the skipper.

The black-hulled Gran Rio, freighter flying the Surinam flag, picked up the survivors 24 hours after the square-rigged brigantine sank. The Gran Rio entered Tampa Bay shortly after dawn today.

David (Dad) Johnston, 17, of Stonington, Conn., was at the wheel when the Albatross was staggered by the blow of the storm.

When the ship started to go over, Philip Le Boutillier, 17, of Perrysburg, Ohio, went to Johnston's aid.

"She went to one side," Dad said. "We thought she would right herself but we had water on deck. We thought she would come back up but she didn't."

Phil said Dad "grabbed me and pulled me out of the wheelhouse and up toward the railing."

The boys said there was little surface wind when the vessel keeled over, but a heavy gust struck the rigging. There was lightning and some rain.

Charles (Tad) Sahler, 18, of Pittsford, N.Y., called the wind "a white squall. It's the first time I've ever seen one and I never want to see another again."

A white squall, he said, comes

Navy Launches Balloon In Try For Altitude Mark

ABOARD AIRCRAFT CARRIER ANTINETAM (AP) — The Navy launched a huge manned balloon from the deck of the carrier Antietam in the Gulf of Mexico today in an attempt to set an altitude record.

The attempt began from a point about 43 miles southeast of South Pass at the mouth of the Mississippi River. Slight technical difficulties had delayed the launch more than an hour.

The experiment was aimed to take two Navy officers to the highest altitude ever reached by a balloonist — 116,000 feet or almost 22 miles above the earth's surface in a flight lasting 7 to 8 hours.

The balloonists are Cmdr. Malcolm Ross of Washington, the pilot, and Lt. Cmdr. Victor E. Prather, medical officer of the Bethesda, Md., Naval Medical Institute, scientific observer.

Cease-Fire Plans Are Advanced

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—With an end of the fighting apparently in sight, Prince Souvanna Phouma today assumed the dominant role in the formation of a new Laotian government.

The "neutralist" prince, 60, recognized by the Communists as the legal premier of Laos, called a conference of the kingdom's political leaders for Friday as both sides went ahead to put into effect a cease-fire in the civil war.

Prince Boun Oum's Western-backed government did not immediately accept Souvanna Phouma's proposal for a parley at the village of Ban Namone, about 55 miles north of Vientiane. But the regime's strongman, and deputy premier, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, told newsmen he expects political meetings will begin before the end of the week.

The political parley will try to work out a formula for a new coalition government representing Phoumi's right-wing forces, Souvanna's neutral supporters and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels headed by Souvanna's half brother, Prince Souphanouvong. It also will discuss Laotian representation at the 14-nation Geneva conference, scheduled to meet May 12 to chart the future of Laos.

Souvanna is Strongest
Souvanna, who on his recent tour of Europe and Communist Asia allied himself openly with the Soviet Union and Red China, appeared by far the strongest contender to head any coalition government. The pro-Communist fighting forces supporting him hold a good portion of the country and have held the military initiative conclusively for several months.

Government and rebel officers were to meet today to iron out details of the cease-fire. The meeting was planned for an area on the front north of Vientiane, with both sides to pull back four miles from the meeting place, Gen. Phoumi said there had been some disagreement over the exact

Youth Who Killed 2 Girls Apprehended

KADOKA, S.D. (AP) — James Scott Stephens, 16, was held for Michigan authorities far from home in this prairie country town today after police said he admitted the rifle slayings of two Holland, Mich., schoolgirls.

South Dakota officers said Wednesday night that the teenage Boy Scout admitted the slayings "with no emotion" after being questioned all day. Stephens was quoted as saying the slayings were accidental.

An Associated Press Wirephoto newspaper picture of the youth brought Stephens arrest. Kadoka Police Chief Alvin Baldwin picked him up about midnight Tuesday after seeing him standing in front of a roadside diner and noting his resemblance to the picture.

The slender, brown-haired high school sophomore carried a knapsack and had $5 when his 1,200-mile flight from home was halted.

Stephens vanished Sunday while searchers were looking for Carol Gee, 11, and Margaret Chambers, 12, who had disappeared the afternoon before while picking wild flowers near their homes just outside Holland.

Bill To Change Utility Rate Formula Loses

GOP-Controlled House Committee Shelves Measure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Well, another milestone in another legislative session. Another attempt to change the utility rate formula in Ohio has been shelved.

The axe fell Wednesday night in the Republican-controlled Elections and Federal Relations Committee of the House by a 14-6 vote. Two years ago, the utility rate bill went to the chopping block on the floor of the House in a wide-open, catch-as-catch-can debate.

Kruse Opposed Bill
The only Democrat to oppose the bill Wednesday night was Rep. V. J. Kruse, D-Fayette.

Defeat of the measure came after days of hoopla surrounding a request for an investigation of utility practices by Rep. Richard M. Christiansen, D-Richland. The request was sparked by a letter written by George B. Quatman of Lima, head of 16 independent Ohio telephone companies, which flatly stated Ohio utilities inflate their rate requests in anticipation that they would be "pulled down" by the state's Utilities Commission.

Urged By DiSalle
Backers of a change in the formula, urged on by Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, wanted to add another factor in the utility rate law. At present, only "replacement cost new, less observed depreciation" can be considered in determining rates. This year's move was to give equal weight to "fair value."

The death of the rate bill came some hours after a floor session in which the House voted to strengthen Ohio laws against obscene publications.

House passage 119-8 sent the bill to the Senate after approval of an amendment to meet objections raised by the Ohio Newspaper Association. The association had feared the bill might interfere with publication of a newspaper devoted primarily to crime news.

The amendment restored the immunity newspapers now enjoy because they have second-class postal permits.

As for other publications, Rep. Robert F. Reckman, R-Hamilton, a co-sponsor, explained: "Does Away With Defense."

"A second-class postal permit issued to a magazine or other publication now is a complete defense (against criminal prosecutions for obscenity). This bill does away with that defense."

Rep. A. G. Lancione, D-Belmont, objected that the bill is a threat to free expression. No court will uphold it, he predicted.

DiSalle's special message to the lawmakers in support of tighter restrictions on campaign spending stirred bitter complaints. The appendix to the message listed a number of legislators as having failed to file personal reports on their campaign spending in 1960.

Manned Flight Plans Pushed

Weather May Delay Launching Again

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Despite threatening weather, the U. S. space agency is going ahead with plans to launch its first manned space flight at 7 a. m. Friday.

Bad weather forced postponement of the first launch try Tuesday after Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard was all ready to make the 115 mile-high ride.

The Weather Bureau said squalls are likely the next few days here and in the target area 290 miles downrange, where ships are waiting to recover Shepard's space capsule 15 minutes after it is launched.

There's a 50-50 chance the weather could clear, however, and the flight go off as scheduled.

What will Shepard, 37, be doing on this day of days?

Whatever he wants to do.

"There is no set schedule of events," said a space agency spokesman, "and there are no locks on his doors."

During the time since the flight was postponed Shepard and his "back-up" astronaut Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., 39, have been quartered in a ready-room 3 1/2 miles from the pad where a Redstone rocket is waiting to hurl one of them into space.

Since Glenn must be ready to go if anything happens to Shepard, he is being kept in the ready-room.

Bettis Hits Liquor 'Sales Gimmicks'

By DUANE E. CROFT
Salem News Correspondent
COLUMBUS — The Ohio Senate passed unanimously Wednesday a bill aimed at cracking down on false bomb threats to schools.

On the other side of the statehouse, the House approved 117-11 a bill co-sponsored by Rep. J. Warren Bettis, R-Columbiana, to ban "sales gimmicks" by the Department of Liquor Control.

The senate measure, sponsored by Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-St. Clairsville, would impose a fine of up to $1,000 or prison term up to one year or both on anyone found guilty of giving false reports to school officials or other persons in change of places of public assembly.

In its original form, the bill would have imposed a two-year prison term, making a false report a felony but Sargus amended the bill on the floor, saying grand jury action would result in delays in prosecution. The misdemeanor penalty, he said, would permit immediate prosecution of offenders, giving the law a more deterrent effect in halting "a rash of false reports." The bill now goes to the House for action.

Bettis' bill, which goes to the Senate, would ban the retail sale of miniature bottles of liquor, the sale of gift certificates, and

Price-Fix Spotlight on Westinghouse

WASHINGTON (AP) —Senators investigating price fixing in the electrical equipment industry turned their attention today on the Westinghouse Electric Corp.

A federal judge in Philadelphia fined 29 companies and 45 individuals nearly $2 million after they pleaded guilty or no contest to the government's charges. In addition, seven executives were given 30-day jail sentences.

The Senate subcommittee questioning Robert Paxton, retiring president of General Electric.

Paxton, contradicting some earlier testimony by others, said, "I've never directed any man to talk prices with a competitor."

He testified that throughout his long career with GE he abhorred "such money business" and had repeatedly instructed subordinates "to have no truck" with price-fixing deals.

But Paxton, who took a leave of absence because of ill health in January and will retire officially this month, said he placed too much confidence in those under him and should have quizzed them more closely about their activities.

3 Injured In Area Traffic

Cycles Involved In Two Accidents

Two persons were hospitalized, one a 20-year-old Salem boy, following two separate motorcycle accidents among the five traffic mishaps investigated by highway patrolmen Wednesday and today.

In fairly good condition today in Salem City Hospital is William Rosser Jr. of RD 2, Salem, with a mild brain concussion suffered in a motorcycle mishap on Rt. 344, one mile west of Franklin Square, at 12:10 a.m. Wednesday.

Rosser was a passenger on the motorcycle driven by Melvin Greene, 21, of 406 Franklin St., Salem. Green told patrolmen his eastbound motorcycle was forced off the right side of the road into a ditch by an unidentified westbound car.

Greene received abrasions of the forehead.

Richard Gallina, 16, of Minerva is in fair condition today in Alliance City Hospital with injuries received when the motorcycle he was operating struck a car operated by Carolyn Nicholson, 33, of Homeworth, at 1:15 p.m. Wednesday.

Both Arms Broken
Gallina sustained fractures of both arms in the mishap.

Patrolmen said the accident, which occurred at the intersection of Middle St. and the Georgetown-Homeworth Road in Homeworth, was caused when Mrs. Nicholson made a left turn into the path of Gallina's westbound cycle.

Considerable damage was sustained by both vehicles, patrolmen said. Mrs. Nicholson was cited for an improper left turn.

Minor damage was received by two cars involved in mishap on Rt. 170, three and one-half miles south of Negley, at 5:20 a.m. Wednesday.

The Patrol said James Pyles, 45, of Cleveland, drove his northbound car left of center, causing

House Passes Measure After JFK Prodding

Key Provision for Extending Coverage Retained In Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's legislative program has been given a tremendous boost by passage of his minimum wage bill after it was nearly throttled in the House.

The measure, cut and trimmed in minor areas in a successful effort to pick up support, emerged from Congress Wednesday with its key provision for extending minimum wage coverage.

230-196 House Vote

The Senate, as expected, approved it resoundingly 64 to 28. The big surprise was in the House, which had twice rejected similar measures. The House approved it 230 to 196.

Hard prodding by the White House and the House Democratic leadership on wavering members, plus concessions written into the bill, combined to give the administration its comeback victory.

The bill, as it goes to the White House, raises the minimum wage for those covered from $1 an hour to $1.15 in four months and to $1.25 two years later. Its chief provision, over which Congress has been battling for more than a year, deals with new coverage.

Protection To Be Extended
Under the bill minimum wage protection will be extended for the first time into the retail and service area, with 3.6 million workers being brought in. Concerns doing $1 million annual business and handling at least $250,000 in goods that cross state lines are covered.

A conservative coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats failed to limit new coverage to the big chain stores operating in more than one state, an approach the House accepted just a month ago and also last session.

Exemptions Were Key
The key to winning Southern support was a series of exemptions for specific groups written into the bill during the conference. These removed certain cotton gin employees, tobacco processors, livestock auctioneers and others from coverage.

Official Ballot Count Is Begun

EAST LIVERPOOL — The Columbiana County Election Board should finish work sometime today on the official canvass of returns from the primary election Tuesday, Carl L. Stacey of Columbiana, chairman, reported.

The board started the official count this morning at its office on W. 6th St. The job sometimes requires two to three days following a countywide general election, but since the voting Tuesday involved only part of the precincts and the returns were light, the job will be completed quickly, Stacey said.

The count made Tuesday night shortly after the polls closed was complete, but unofficial. Today's tabulation will furnish the figures that will be certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbiana.

Someone Always Must Go First

What will our children and grandchildren think when they hear about the misgivings that darkened our minds when the time came to move out into space?

Isn't it likely they will wonder why we didn't see the move into space as the logic and inevitable consequence of all flight? Once men had learned how to fly, the distance they would go from earth was relative.

In this century it has gone from a few feet above the ground by the Wrights at Kitty Hawk to routine commercial flights at altitudes many miles above the earth.

It has gone in brief experimental flights in airplanes up to more than 22 miles above the earth's surface. If the Russians may be taken at their word on this one thing, they have successfully sent a human being around the earth by rocket propulsion at an altitude of as high as 187 1/4 miles.

ALTHOUGH it necessarily takes the form of national competition, rocket flight into space will not be nationalistic in historic records. It will not matter to space engineers and cosmonauts a century from now that the first man to circumnavigate the earth in a spaceship was Russian. It will matter only that the feat was accomplished in a certain way in a certain year.

There will be no attention given to time lags and the technical details that plague and bewilder us now. Already the time has come when visitors to the Smithsonian Institution gape at the Spirit of St. Louis and find it hard to believe that Charles A. Lindbergh, who flew so crude a plane by himself across the North Atlantic is still alive. He is honored because he was first, not because he was an American.

There will be a new colony of pioneers—space travelers. They will take the place of the pioneers of early airplane flight, most of them now dead. They will be the barnstormers of their space generation—the fly-by-the-seat-of-your-pants rocketeers who will be patronized by highly skilled juniors, full of knowledge and short of respect for gaffers like Alan Shepard Jr. and John H. Glenn Jr. who in their day and in their way went first so others might follow after them.

WITH THOUGHTS like these, timid creatures like the rest of us may find it easier to fall asleep while wondering what goes through the mind of a cosmonaut sweating out the countdown at Cape Canaveral.

They are the thoughts that went through the minds of the contemporaries Orville and Wilbur Wright, Louis Bleriot, John Alcock, A. W. Brown, Amelia Earhart, Hap Arnold, "Wrong Way" Corrigan, Clarence Chamberlin, Wiley Post, Harold Gatty, Richard E. Byrd, Max Conrad and hundreds of others who were first to do something that no one ever did before in the category of flight.

Space flight is only more of the same. Happy landing!

Plenty to Show, Little to Eat

The Soviet Union and its Communist cohorts put on their best bibs and tuckers for May Day celebrations, but lurking in the background were some of the shortcomings of their system.

Reports out of Russia said the holiday mood in Moscow was tempered by shortages of meat in the local shops and Red soothsayers were quick to point out in their holiday speeches that all efforts would be made to produce goods and foods to meet the citizens' needs.

For many Muscovites the holiday picture must have been a grim contrast. While Khrushchev's clan paraded the finest in space equipment and armaments, the citizen had only to take a glance at the nearest butcher shop to read a sign "No Meat Today."

The promise of alleviating this shortage appears to contain little substance. Latest figures, released this week, show 1961 meat production running at only 87 per cent of 1960.

The Russians have made advances in space but they are having trouble with cattle.

Red China, also a great May Day celebrator, has its share of headaches in the fundamental field of keeping body and soul together.

An Associated Press dispatch out of Hong Kong reports thousands of medical workers in Red China have been sent to the countryside to fight diseases caused by nationwide famine and "irresponsible" party officials.

The move followed unusually strong criticism of officials by Red China's press.

Refugees from food-short China say malnutrition is the main cause for rampant disease.

The report quotes one person who left recently that "bloated faces and limbs are a common sight in every village."

These Communist nations now doing their utmost to sway the rest of the world in their direction appear like the downtrodden actor going after the starring role in a Broadway hit.

He wears flashy clothes but returns each night to a shabby apartment and barren cupboards.

Multi-Billion Dollar Idea

The U.S. Treasury Department intends to point with pride during May to the 20th anniversary of the birth of a sound idea—the Series E Savings Bonds. The first bond was purchased on May 1, 1941, by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. He bought it from Henry Morgenthau, secretary of treasury in his Cabinet.

Today, a little better than 15 per cent of the national debt—$43,536,000,000—is underwritten by Series E and H Savings Bonds, the relatively small denomination bonds sold to private investors.

As if celebrating the 20th anniversary in advance, private investors have been buying more savings bonds this year than the Treasury had expected them to buy. For the first time in two and a half years, sales are exceeding cash-ins. The total for January, February and March was $1,306,000,000 compared with $1,252,000,000 for the first three months a year ago. Cash-ins for the same period were $1,227,000,000, compared with $1,456,000,000 last year.

The Treasury reports that eight million employees are enrolled in payroll savings plans offered by 45,000 businesses and that the employees put an average of $20 a month into Savings Bonds. There is this significant element in the popularity of the savings plans:

Employees participating in them and purchasers of Savings Bonds in general are not acutely conscious of the interest rate, which now is 3 1/4 per cent on Series E bonds held to maturity. Their primary interest is in the security of the investment and the fact it is a kind of enforced saving. These have been the strong selling points for U.S. Savings Bonds in a nation of savers.

On the 20th anniversary of the Savings Bond idea, the Treasury is looking forward to selling $4,650,000,000 worth by the end of 1961, which would be a thumping 7 per cent increase over 1960.

Possible inscription on the Russian tablet awarding Fidel Castro the Lenin Peace Prize:

"To Fidel Castro, the U.S.S.R. 1960 award as Mister Sunshine, Bunny Lamb, Best Turtle Dove in the Show and Peace Boy No. 1, give or take a few thousand executions, trials in violation of all civilized concepts and night-and-day inflammatory radio harangues. The committee presents him with this Oscar because of his performance as: "1. An exponent of brotherly love, if it takes his last firing squad, vilification and violent gesture.

"2. A tireless worker for better understandings when not too busy for a coffee break from hysterical radio speeches blasting free world and democratic procedures.

"3. One of the world's leading impersonators of Mary's Little Lamb, and the first White Knight to go into his act with whiskers.

"4. A foremost exponent of around-the-clock emotionalism and sustained abuse of anybody expressing contrary thought.

"5. A conspicuous demonstrator of endurance on the microphone, and the art of discarding pledges, guaranteeing elections, freedom of the press and personal liberties.

"6. A top performer in waving an olive branch from the army tank and smoking live ammunition in a pipe of peace.

Cuban Blunder

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

know how many people it employs and how much it spends—and Congress should have a watchdog committee keeping tabs on it.

The other is that the CIA should stick to spying and quit running operations like the Cuban exile's attack on the Bahia de Cochinos.

Since the CIA was created in the National Security Act of 1947, dozens of resolutions have been introduced in Congress to set up some kind of congressional watchdog committee.

Many in Congress have complained about being kept in the dark about the CIA. Not more than 16 senior members of the Senate and House Armed Services and Appropriations Committees know about its appropriations, hidden in funds voted for other agencies. A good guess as to the total: About $500 million a year.

Powerful elements in Congress, notably the House and Senate Rules Committees, have blocked watchdog measures heretofore. They have agreed with Mr. Dulles' contention that he is keeping Congress adequately informed.

The new demand, which former Vice President Nixon is reported to favor, would restrict the CIA to intelligence gathering and analyzing.

It is interesting, perhaps, that no such clamor arose when pro-Communist regimes were overthrown in Iran in 1953 and Guatemala in 1954. The CIA is understood to have had a hand in both.

Distinguished Career At 68, Mr. Dulles has had a long and distinguished career. Like his brother, the late secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, he started out in diplomacy and law. But the intelligence bug bit him during World War II.

With the cloak-and-dagger Office of Strategic Services, he reported brilliantly from Switzerland on Nazi military operations—what he calls a "pipe dream compared with what we now have to meet" in the pathologically secretive domains of the Communists.

Mr. Dulles came to Washington in 1948 as head of a three-man committee to survey America's intelligence system. He joined the agency in 1950 and was named director in 1953.

Before World War I, the United States had no intelligence system, a fact in which many Americans took pride. And even as late as the 1920s, Congress usually appropriated less than $200,000 a year for military intelligence. Despite the lesson of Pearl Harbor—that adequate information was available to anticipate the attack but there was no centralized evaluation—no permanent or completely coordinated intelligence system was developed during World War II.

It was against this background that Congress handed the CIA a broad mandate in the 1947 National Security Act. Its chief job by law is to correlate all intelligence, evaluate it and report it to the National Security Council.

It works closely with military services, the State Department, the FBI and the Atomic Energy Commission. But it was further ordered to perform "other functions and duties" as directed by the National Security Council. And its payroll and expenditures were cloaked in secrecy.

Its tough to get a job in the CIA. Out of every 1,000 applicants about 800 are screened out by personal officials.

The 200 others are turned over to security agencies for investigation. Of these, about 70 are rejected because they drink too much, talk too much, have relatives behind the Iron Curtain which might make them susceptible to Communist pressure, and so on.

About 40 are turned down for serious security reasons, such as Communist backgrounds or affiliations.

That leaves about 90 out of 1,000 who are accepted, and then only on a closely watched trial basis.

SIDE GLANCES

Executive Change

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Cabinet Council Needed To Advise President

Is there something wrong with the executive system in America? Or is there something wrong about electing to the presidency of the United States a man who has had no executive training or intimate knowledge of the workings of the executive branch of the government? Or is there something wrong in having a transition period of several months between an outgoing and an incoming administration, thereby paralyzing executive planning for the immediate future and causing serious consequences like the ill-fated venture in Cuba?

Answers to these questions are more important today than just how the United States is to help in Laos or what position is to be taken in Cuba. For if the executive office of the government of the United States isn't functioning efficiently, how can the chief executive be expected to act instantly and effectively at a time when a missile or a bomb may be launched suddenly from an enemy area?

It does little good to blame this or that group of advisors—those who have experience in the last administration or the new set who have been brought in from academic circles. With all their earnestness and sincerity, most of the newcomers lack experience in and firsthand knowledge of government operations at the top level.

WHAT'S fundamentally wrong is the executive system. Various members of Congress are spending a lot of time complaining that they should have been "briefed" on the administration's planning in Cuba. But it is the true role of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee—admittedly a partisan group with some publicity-seeking members always vocal—which needs to be studied, so that it can play a proper part in the field of foreign policy.

There are some members of Congress who feel they should make the nation's policy in world affairs. Others feel they should only advise on foreign policy. But, as a practical matter, no executive can be effective if he has to take into his confidence dozens of persons inside and outside of Congress who "leak" information regularly to favorite members of the press.

President Kennedy likes to listen to a variety of views and is to be commended for his patience and restraint. But no amount of conferencing with a lot of college professors can give him the maturity and experience he needs to run the high office to which he has been elected. He will be a much better president a year hence, because of actual experience in the office, than he is today. He will learn that too many academicians at his side can bring confusion instead of clarity, and that a diffusion of responsibility can only produce chaos and failure.

THE FOUNDING Fathers provided in the Constitution for heads of departments who would be nominated by the president and confirmed with the advice and consent of the Senate. Cabinet government has worked successfully in Britain and in other English-speaking democracies. Although Mr. Kennedy's cabinet got at the start a lot of publicity as an able body of men, it turns out that this same group is rarely consulted on the broad aspects of national and international policy and that they have become mere heads of their own departments.

What is needed here is a cabinet council that gives full time to counselling the president. The departments can be run by general managers, and the cabinet council could meet every day and give the president advice. If the present cabinet members aren't qualified to be presidential advisors on broad policy, there are plenty of able men in America who could serve in that capacity. But it is courting disaster to assume that academicians, who have little experience in the operations of government, can shunt the Secretary of State aside or that decisions can be made with one or two cabinet officers without the chance for a larger group of mature men to sit down and work out a policy based on principles of enduring strength.

There's much that is wrong in the current operations of the executive system. The so-called Cuban fiasco is but the beginning of a series of failures unless President Kennedy gets rid of most of the "kibitzers" who are running around in circles in the new administration and sets up at his side a cabinet council of men of stature to give full time every day to the task of helping him make national and international policies. He can't do it all by himself.

Going To Grass

By TRUMAN TWILL

When a farm was neglected, they used to say it was "going to grass." They meant the fields no longer were being plowed and planted in crops.

The expression no longer has its original meaning.

"going to grass" now means one of three things.

The farm is under a systematic conservation program that aims to put turf on top of everything not being used for some other crop that will stop wind and water erosion.

Or the farm is under a federal soil bank program that has taken its productive acreage out of crop production in return for a subsidy to the owner, to offset some of the loss of what otherwise could have produced a cash crop.

On the farm that has been subdivided and sold to suburban suckers who were conned into thinking it would be just one dickens of a lot of fun to live in the midst of a lot of grass.

The setup was made to seem attractive by showing the suckers around suburban grasslands during the quiet hours of mid-week when all the householders were working their heads off in town to make enough money to meet the overhead of raising grass that would look as lush as the other fellow's grass—a cycle of status competition that has covered the country with deluxe turf.

May is the climax of the competition—right now when all the suburban grass has been pushed by mischievous mother nature into leaping up at the rate of an inch a day.

All the householders who brought this problem on themselves by getting sucked into grass-growing competition now are going crazy wondering how to cope with the consequences. They are hacking away with armadas of power mowers and other weapons. They have mustered their wives and children for do-or-die duty in the front yards, side yards and back yards.

They are fighting nature after having encouraged it. They are slicing off their toes in mowing machines, frying their fingers on hot exhaust pipes, springing their backs on balky engines, blistering their hands on rake handles and bankrupting themselves with purchases of weed killers, crabgrass discourages and magic potions guaranteed to give them an edge in the competition to produce healthier, heavier turf that that no-account so-and-so down the road who never got the hang of going to grass.

After every weekend, success stories drag themselves back to work, worn out from battling what was to have been the proof of their success as suburbanites. They compare notes on their grass-control machinery and rustle up more cash to make down payments on a larger machine that will shave grass-cutting time 20 per cent.

Newer and better methods of getting grass started now have been introduced. It is possible to be knee-deep in the stuff within a few weeks after occupying a new house. Some suburbanites can't wait even that long; they plant the grass when they buy the lot and build the house later, thus having the fun of going to grass before the move to the suburbs.

Now comes May, when the grass really starts to grow! Lock up the kiddies and the dogs! Anything that stands in the way will be cut down, too!

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Family Disunity and Health Quirks

Some time back I suggested how you might treat your own emotional disturbances: a solution to a disturbing problem might become self-evident if the disturbed person wrote an account of the situation at hand.

Here's an example that beats anything I could say further: "I have a four-year-old daughter whose suffering from constipation has become a difficult problem in our lives. Our family doctor gave her medication that had little effect. He referred me to a pediatrician who prescribed a laxative, warm baths twice daily and an ointment for external application . . .

"She refuses to take the medicine. I tried it in milk and chocolate to no avail. I plan meals with greens, vegetables and fruit. But it doesn't help. Each day I take her to the toilet at least four times. I read stories, tell nursery rhymes and sing to her. But I get a result only after four or five days." So much for the facts. Now, dear reader, observe how the explanation is beginning to dawn on this troubled mother.

"I have three other children by a previous marriage," she goes on to say. "I've never had this trouble with any of them. Do you think this little girl is doing this as a means of getting attention? Do you think I'm making too much of an issue of this whole matter?"

Sight unseen, I believe this mother has now sized up the situation better than the doctors who prescribed laxatives. Almost certainly this child is seeking attention.

QUITE LIKELY, the children of the first marriage, who never had "this trouble," are making no secret of the "different" behavior

In The Service

Joseph Duriga

Joseph Duriga, assigned to the USS Kitty Hawk, the world's first guided missile aircraft carrier, was host to his mother, Mrs. Charles Duriga of RD 1, Salem, and his sisters, Charlene and Carolyn, at the ship's commissioning ceremonies Saturday at the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

The serviceman, who had attended Goshen High School, has completed requirements for graduation while in the Navy, which he entered two years ago.

His address is: Joseph Duriga, F.A. (Div. B), USS Kitty Hawk (CUA63), c/o Fleet P.O., New York, N. Y.

of this outsider in their midst. And quite likely, the mother, after writing this letter, became aware of the behavior of her older children, the reaction of the youngster and her own attempt to make up for the older children's behavior by fussing with the outsider.

I'm sure that she now sees that this is a family affair. As such, it can only be righted by a coordinated family effort. The older children must be made to understand by their mother that the newcomer is as dear to her as they are. And the outsider must be made to understand by her father that the other children are as dear to him as she is. Then in joint session all four must be made to understand that whatever unkindness is done to any one hurts all.

I am not so foolish as to think these tasks are easily performed or that their accomplishment will lead to a rapid sure cure. But I doubt that the condition can be relieved in any way other than that suggested by the mother herself in her letter.

Winona

Mrs. Myra Yangling of Salem visited Mrs. Nova Andre over the weekend.

Mrs. Alvin Gamble and daughter, Miss Lillian Callender, of Denver, Colorado, are visiting in the Charles DeWees home this week.

Women's Society for Christian Service and the Hazel Circle of the Methodist Church met for a joint meeting Monday. Mrs. Albert Althouse had charge of the prayer service, and Mrs. Arthur Loudon conducted the program. She was assisted by Mrs. Nova Andre, Mrs. Richard Stamp and Mrs. Althouse. Mrs. Harry Hanna presided. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Andre and Mrs. Donald Coppock.

METROPOLITAN

announces a service for all fathers

FAMILY SECURITY CHECK-UP

Family Security Check-Up

Now you can check up on your financial health, just as you check up on your physical health. This service is more than an interview. It is a review every father should have regularly—whether he needs insurance or not.

EVERY YEAR, millions of fathers have health check-ups. Yet, millions of fathers don't check up on their family's financial health.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company now offers a service which lets you do just that: The Family Security Check-Up. It is a service which can bring you new information and correct mistakes. It lets you make sure you've planned your family's future with your head as well as your heart.

What you could lose without one

Our experience with millions of families shows there are mistakes, oversights, gaps in the average man's financial security program. Too much of it is haphazard. Too much of it is left to chance. It lacks a plan or too often it simply falls behind the times. For example—

You can unintentionally "disinherit" a child, in effect, if you have overlooked naming him among your beneficiaries.

Social Security benefits for your wife and your children may not dovetail efficiently with your pension or insurance programs.

As much as 20% more actual cash can be provided depending upon the mode of payment selected.

A guaranteed income—until your youngest child is grown up—can be provided even if you are a man with a moderate income.

Times change; many changes can affect your plans. Changes in income, occupation, in children's ages, in the cost of living—all these mean that a father should have a financial check-up regularly. And he should also make sure he has taken advantage of the most modern insurance provisions and benefits.

More than an interview—a service

Metropolitan, the company you look to for authoritative information on physical health, offers a way to check up on your family's financial health.

You'll see, below, all the steps you go through to satisfy yourself that the provisions you have made for your family will do what you intend.

Metropolitan representatives have been trained in Metropolitan's own schools and are qualified by solid experience to bring you this service. They are equipped with businesslike charts and tables that show you exactly where you stand.

Whether you need insurance or not, this service makes sense. Remember, Metropolitan is as local as Main Street . . . as close as your phone. Call your Metropolitan man today.

There is no obligation—except to those you love.

Family Security Check-Up

WHAT IT IS AND WHAT IT DOES FOR YOU

With the help of your Metropolitan man—

1. You check the facts: your Social Security, your home, your life insurance, your pension plan, your savings and other assets. You may be surprised to learn how much you're worth.
2. You weigh your responsibilities: mortgage or rent payments, education, retirement, accident and sickness emergencies; how much it would cost your family to live without you.
3. You learn where you stand. You determine your weak and strong points . . . whether the provisions you have made for your family will do what you intend. You get the facts in front of you.
4. You plan for the future. Based on these facts, you decide what action, if any, may be needed to give you a family security plan, tailor-made to your own needs and ambitions—one which makes good sense for you.

Endurable Wife

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It was one of those rainy days when people speak their doubts about life.

"Suppose something happened to one of us, and it happened to you instead of me," I asked Frances, my wife of 24 years, "Would you suggest I get married again?"

"Please do," she said.

"Why?"

"Because, Rover," she replied, "I couldn't rest quiet in my tomb if I thought there was no one to call you when you are spending an evening at your club with your rowdy friends and remind you it is time to come home and get your sleep."

"That isn't exactly the kind of a second wife I had in mind," I murmured.

"Well, just what kind of a second wife do you have in mind?"

"To tell you the truth, she'd be about 23 years old and docile, with graduate degrees in political science and sociology so she could tell me what's wrong with people and the world, but wouldn't interrupt me when I discussed the future of baseball."

"She would be ravishingly beautiful with long auburn curls and green eyes and a fine old father, rich in money but poor in health."

"Just what would you do with a second wife like that?" asked Frances.

"I'd invite her dear old father to move into our house to live with us," I answered, "and soap the stairs. Then if he skidded and the best came to the worst—heaven forbid!—I'd try to console her with her inheritance."

"Do you honestly think you really could be happy with a rich and lovely wife half your age?" asked Frances. "Don't you think there would be wide gulfs between you?"

"None I wouldn't be willing to try to broad jump," I told her cheerfully. "A fellow has to make the best of life as he finds it."

"And if something happened to me," I said, "would you marry again?"

"Certainly," replied my wife.

"You would—really?" I asked, indignantly.

"Uh huh."

"Who? Some young deadbeat that would steal the insurance I left you and break your heart and leave you alone?"

"No."

"Then who?" I demanded.

"Why I'd marry another potbellied, middle-aged, bald-headed, daydreaming oaf just like you," said Frances. "Once a woman gets used to a husband like that, what would she do with another kind—except feel lonesome?"

The sun came out then and the world smiled. You can't beat an endurable wife.

How About Sausage, Eggs?

Eggs are getting more abundant every day and prices are therefore more reasonable. So let's use them often, not only for breakfast, but luncheon and supper.

SAUSAGE NEST EGGS

(Yield: 8 Easter Nest Eggs)

8 slices enriched bread, 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, 16 pork sausage links, 8 tablespoons chili sauce, 8 eggs, separated, ½ teaspoon salt, dash pepper, ¼ cup grated cheddar cheese.

Remove crusts from bread. Brush both sides of each bread slice with butter; gently press bread into each section of a large muffin pan or a small custard cup.

Toast in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Brown sausages links lightly and arrange 2 in each toast cup.

Place a tablespoon of chili sauce over sausage in each cup. Separate eggs, keeping yolks unbroken in shell halves. Beat egg whites stiff and season them with salt and pepper.

Pile into custard cups leaving a depression in center. Drop yolks into center depressions. Sprinkle with grated cheese and bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) for 20 minutes, or until yolks are set and whites browned.

CHARLIE'S ANTICS—Screwing up his face in a characteristic grimace, Jerry Lewis looks remarkably like comedian Charlie Chaplin, whom he is portraying in the film "The Ladies Man." Derby hat, painted moustache and heavy eyebrows help to recreate the image of the famed movie clown.

Mustard Hollandaise

2 egg yolks, 1½ teaspoons mustard, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon salt, dash of cayenne, 2 tablespoons heavy cream, 1/3 cup butter or margarine.

Put all the ingredients except the butter in the top of a double boiler; cook, beating constantly with a wire whip or rotary beater, over hot (not boiling) water until mixture begins to thicken—about 3 minutes.

Beat in the butter, 1 tablespoon at a time. Serve at once. Makes about 2/3 cup. Serve with cooked fresh broccoli.

Tomato Salad Lorenzo

Small or medium sized tomatoes mayonnaise, chili sauce, watercress, romaine or other lettuce.

Wash and dry tomatoes; cut a thin slice from bottoms so they'll stand straight. Cut tops in plug shape; make cut large enough to hold dressing.

Mix equal parts of mayonnaise, chili sauce and finely chopped watercress leaves; fill tomato cavities with this Lorenzo dressing.

The program is sponsored by the Salem Park Commission and the Memorial Building Association. Mrs. Raymond Stiver, supervisor of the club, reports there are now 277 members on the club roll.

The educational committee, headed by William Ingold, was in charge of the program at the Damascus Ruritan's dinner meeting Wednesday in the Damascus Methodist Church, when a $25 bond was awarded to Connie Headley, freshman, and to Beth Phillips, sophomore, who had the highest scholastic averages in their classes at West Branch High School. Mr. Ingold made the awards.

Miss Headley is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kerns of RD 1, Homeworth, and Miss Phillips is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Phillips of Damascus.

ard during the waiting period, he is virtually Shepard's shadow. They undergo the same daily physical examinations, eat the same food, study the same problems of space flight.

Wednesday they both took brief refresher courses at the controls of the cabin simulator—a mock-up of the capsule now in place atop the Redstone rocket.

They'll skip this today. Like a boxer training for a big fight, Shepard is wary of losing the keen edge honed by weeks of training. A little exercise and a lot of rest is his antidote for let-down.

up without notice and passes quickly, above the water level.

Among the survivors, William Bunting, 16, of Cambridge, Mass., was the only one injured. He had a gash on his head.

"Bunting really used his head," Sheldon said. "He got out by butting his head against a door and smashing it open."

Bunting's mother is president of Radcliffe College.

The boys were barefoot, most of them wearing pants and shirts provided by the skipper of the Gran Rio.

Capt. Frans Vegter, skipper of the Gran Rio, said he saw two lifeboats from the Albatross, the occupants "waving shirts and everything."

An hour and 15 minutes after the boats were sighted, the survivors were aboard the rescue vessel.

"At first, I thought the ship would go right past us," Johnstone said. "Then I thought he was going to cut us in half. Then he reversed engines and we knew we were going to be picked up."

The Gran Rio was heading for Tampa from Kingston, Jamaica, when it sighted the life boats.

Federal health officials said all aboard would be quarantined. Six were trapped below decks when the Albatross sank.

The wind and waves ripped the ship's lifeboats away from the doomed vessel and the survivors managed to reach them in safety.

However, their ordeal was just starting. They spent all that day and a storm tossed night before the Dutch freighter Grand Rio picked them up.

The Albatross, one of the last of her type to sail the seas, was used as a floating classroom. She was headed for the Bahama Islands when the storm wrote a finish to her voyage about 10 miles northwest of Key West.

Other than Mrs. Sheldon, those missing and presumed dead are: George Ptactnik, 30, of California, the ship's cook.

Robert Wetherill, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wetherill III, Media, Pa.

Chris Corstine, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Corstine, Montreal, Canada.

Rick Marsellus, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Marsellus, Newport Beach, Calif.

John Goodlett, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max W. Goodlett, Arlington, Va.

BOY, 4, SHOTS SELF

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Douglas J. Clark, 4-year-old son of Mrs. Joann Clark, a widow, was reported in serious condition at Children's Hospital after he accidentally shot himself at his home Wednesday night. Mrs. Clark said she was talking on the telephone when she heard the shot upstairs.

The mother told police the boy apparently had taken a gun from her husband's jacket pocket and fired it accidentally. The bullet struck him in the abdomen. Mrs. Clark said friends had given her the gun for protection following her husband's death a few months ago.

Brace For Political Fight

With an end to the shooting war in prospect, Vientiane's right-wing officials and Western diplomats braced for a fight on the political front to keep Laos from going Communist.

"Now we really have to go to work, and it's not going to be easy," said one Western diplomat.

the establishment of drive-in liquor stores.

Sponsors of the measure said the trend in recent years in the state liquor department has been to shift from mere control and policing of liquor sales to an aggressive policy of merchandising in an effort to increase liquor consumption.

They said this is opposed to the original intent of the Liquor Control Act, which was adopted in 1933 after the repeal of federal prohibition.

Liquor department spokesmen testified earlier in committee that they had no objection to the bill.

HALDI'S

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

As they say in show biz, Arthur Goldberg has tuxedo and is willing to travel—all the way to Sweden to discover how that kingdom has averted major strikes for 16 years, how it worked itself up to the highest living standard in Europe and the lowest unemployment in the world, though heavily automated.

Not only has there not been a major strike since the end of World War II, but fully 98 per cent of all labor-management negotiations were peacefully settled last year.

When the prime minister of Sweden told this to the President of the United States, John Kennedy suggested to Mr. Goldberg that he go.

The secretary of labor will be there about July 1. He'll find a unique capitalist kingdom which provides all the welfare fringes over which so many of our strikes start here.

THE BIGGEST differences between Sweden and the United States, it was explained by Thorbjorn Carlsson, labor attaché to the Swedish Embassy, is in the handling of welfare fringes.

"Much of what you deal with," said Mr. Carlsson, "as fringe benefits in the agreements, are in Sweden taken care of through social legislation.

"Thus, old age pensions and supplementary pensions, free medical care for everybody, maternity grants, on-the-job accident insurance and three weeks vacation with full pay are regulated by legislation, applying, of course, not only to organized labor but to every Swedish citizen and to every foreign worker registered in Sweden."

U.S. Labor Secretary Goldberg also is interested in studying the Swedish Royal Labor Market Board, which has kept unemployment down to 1.8 per cent—and industrial profits high. That's quite a royal trick.

No slight of hand. Here's how it's done: Most unique is the board's help to workers who travel across the country searching for jobs.

THE SWEDISH government simply pays the job seeker's travel and living expenses. Say an unemployed Stockholm resident hears of a job 20 miles up north. He applies to the Royal Board. He gets his fare and per diem to make the trip and apply.

roads, or the defense department to shift some business to the needy firms.

If this doesn't help and men are laid off, the government makes available complete retraining in a national school—regardless of the workers' ages. During this period, which can run as long as 22 months, the worker is paid some 70 per cent of his previous wage.

Furthermore, he receives allowances for his family. This money is paid by the board, even if he takes night work and earns extra pay.

If finally unemployment can't be avoided, most of the jobless are supported by a voluntary insurance fund. It is administered by the unions. It is paid for partly by employed workers and partly by the government. The employers pay none of these costs.

Also the government gives the corporations a tax break if the industrialists use some of their profits to put up new plants and create new boom areas. All this Mr. Goldberg will study and report back to the President.

It all might show up in some presidential message to Congress one of these days.

Leetonia Battered 81½-36½ by Youngstown Wilson

Bears Win Only Two of 14 Events

A strong Youngstown Woodrow Wilson track squad swept first in 12 of 14 events and rolled up an 81½ to 36½ score on the Leetonia Bears yesterday afternoon at Leetonia.

Leetonia's only two firsts were recorded by Dave Wilkinson in the discus and Russ Lehman in the high jump.

Wilkinson's winning discus throw was 111-0. The Bears also got a second place in this event from Guy Falzetta.

Lehman won the high jump at 5-8. Another of Leetonia's ace high jumpers, Eric Painter, was unable to compete in yesterday's half mile. Howard Schnepf of Leetonia ran his fastest mile of the season but his 5:00.5 was only good enough for third place yesterday.

Bob Gullett captured seconds in the high and low hurdles, the pole vault and the broad jump. Ricky Smith placed second to Trainor in the 100-yard dash.

DESPITE THE LICKING at the hands of the Class AA school, Leetonia managed to improve their marks in most of the events yesterday. Coach Ike Farrah said he believes the competition will pay off for his boys a week from Friday in the County Meet at Salem.

The Bears have two dual meets scheduled at home next week. Canfield will be the foe on Monday and North Lima will furnish the opposition on Tuesday.

Champions Event Has $40,000 Purse

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The click of a club hitting a golf ball replaced, momentarily, the familiar sound of rattling dice today as the ninth annual Tournament of Champions got under way for a $40,000 purse in this Nevada gambling resort.

Twenty-six name professionals, headed by a pair of top experts locked in a duel for money winning honors, were set to tee off over the par 36-72, 7,000-plus yard Desert Inn Country Club course.

The winner will collect $10,000 when the 72-hole, spring classic winds up Sunday, and the smart money is on either Arnold Palmer or Gary Player.

Palmer is the 1960 United States Open champion and twice winner of the Masters. In 14 tournaments this year he has earned, nearly $40,000.

South Africa's Player has competed in 15 tournaments, won $47,068 and his biggest plum came when he defeated Palmer in the recent Masters at Augusta, Ga.

To be invited, a player must have won at least one big PGA tournament during the past 12 months.

Only one man, Gene Littler, has won Tournament of Champions more than once, and the San Diego pro did it three times in succession—in 1955-56-57.

Past winners back again are Jerry Barber, who hauled in the $10,000 last year at Art Wall Jr., 1954; Canada's Stan Leonard, 1958, and Mike Souchak, 1959.

Play today was to begin at 1 p.m., PDT. The weather man promised sun and possible gusty winds.

Tyo, Frazier Win In Hurdles

Favored To Repeat In Mahoning Meet

Dave Tyo of Greenford and Bud Frazier of Boardman are almost sure bets to capture both hurdling events in their respective Class A and AA divisions at the Mahoning County track carnival at Boardman Stadium Friday after garnering wins in the events in the prelims Wednesday.

Tyo took both the Class A 120-yard high hurdle event and the 180-yard low hurdles with times of 17.0 and 23.0 respectively. Frazier, who is returning to defend his titles from last year in the 220-yard dash and the low hurdle event, topped all competition yesterday in the high and low hurdles with times of 15.4 and 20.5 respectively. He also won the 220-yard dash in Class AA with a run of 23.2 seconds.

FOUR TEAMS will be battling for the Class AA title won the last six years by Boardman. Defending champion Springfield Local will be challenged by six other schools in Class A.

Besides Boardman, others in Class AA include Poland, Austintown Fitch and Canfield, with West Branch a possibility in entering several boys. Rounding out Class A are Sebring, Lowellville, North Lima, Greenford, Jackson-Milton and Western Reserve.

Richard Pratt of Lowellville was another big gun in the Class A prelims yesterday as he took wins in both the 100-yard dash and 220-yard dash. His time in the 100-yard dash was 10.2 seconds, better by two-tenths of a second over the Class AA winner, J. Thompson of Boardman with a 10.4 run. Pratt's winning time in the 220 was 23.5 seconds.

SEVERAL OTHER returning 1960 winners came out winners in the prelims. They were, in Class AA, R. Hill of Boardman in the 440-yard dash with a time of 52.8; and in Class A, Roger Bretz of Springfield, also in the 440, who ran yesterday in 53.9 seconds. All schools are expected to field two entrants in the field events in the meet.

Spahn's Two-Hitter Jars Dodgers 4-1

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Warren Spahn followed up his no-hitter of last Friday with a two-hit, 4-1 decision over Los Angeles Wednesday night, walking just two and striking out nine for his 291st career victory and first over the Dodgers in three years.

San Francisco beat the Chicago Cubs 8-4 and regained the National League lead when St. Louis spilled Pittsburgh 3-1.

Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 9-3 in the other NL game.

The Dodgers broke Spahn's shutout string at 11 2-3 innings on Gilliam's hit, which fell at the feet of converted infielder Mel Roach in left field. The double scored Charlie Smith, who had opened with a walk and then stayed put while Spahn fanned John Roseboro and losing right-hander Stan Williams (1-2).

The Cardinals, shut out for 14 innings, jumped on Vinegar Bend Mizell for all three runs in the fifth inning. Bob Gibson won it, which is sponsored by the Allen K. Reynolds Post 892 of the VFW and the Salem Park Commission, were as follows:

Under 9 years of age — Mark Hanney of 134 Southeast Blvd., winner, and Rudy Markovich of MC 1, Salem, runner-up.

10-12 years of age — Robert Hall of 564 Bank St., winner, and Louis Markovich Jr. of MC 1, Salem, runner-up.

Steve Brantingham of 150 Brooklyn Ave. was the runner-up in the 13-15 year old class won by Wayne Washington.

Inclement weather, which caused two earlier postponements, cut the tournament field down to only 12 entrants. The matches were held on the Centennial Park tennis courts.

All three winners will now enter the district meet in Orville Saturday.

Hale, Romano Pace Tribe To 4-3 Win Over Chisox

Temple's Hit Skein Unbroken

Hale's Pinch Single Scores Winning Run

Cleveland (AP) — Cleveland's pinch-hitter de luxe Bob Hale and catcher John Romano have close ties with the city of Chicago, but on the playing field nostalgia for the Windy City fades away and determination takes over.

Hale and Romano got the key hits to give Cleveland a sweep of its two-game series with Chicago's White Sox.

"I love to beat the White Sox," said Hale Wednesday night after his pinch single in the ninth inning scored Romano for a 4-3 victory. "Why?" said Hale. "Because I live there. I like to beat everybody, but especially the White Sox. This game went back there on TV. My mother saw it. My brother saw it. My two sisters, too. All my friends."

It was Hale's second timely pinch hit in two nights. Romano was a little more restrained. But he had every right to crow. He cracked a double with two out to get into position to score on Hale's hit. In the seventh he'd belted a home run into the left field seats for two runs he also had a single for a perfect night at the plate. His eleventh inning double Tuesday night won that game.

Romano, now batting .339 as the Tribe's everyday catcher, was traded to Cleveland by the White Sox in 1959. Third baseman Bubba Phillips, among others, also came to the Indians in that trade. Cleveland gave up Minnie Minoso, Dick Brown and a couple of others.

Second baseman Johnny Temple kept his hitting streak going Wednesday with a single in the first inning off former Indian Cal McLish. That stretched his string through all 18 of Cleveland's games.

The Indians got a run in the third inning on singles by Romano and Jim Perry, a sacrifice by Temple and a single by Don Dillard.

The Indians went into the ninth inning with a 3-0 lead. Perry, working on a five-hit, no-walk job, had retired the last 15 batters in order. But with two out, Minoso and Roy Sievers walked. After Floyd Robinson smacked a run-scoring single, Cleveland manager Jimmie Dykes lifted Perry and sent in Frank Funk.

Funk hit Sherm Lollar with a pitch, loading the bases. Then Billy Goodman singled to right to score two runs for a 3-3 tie.

But Funk became the winning pitcher when Hale delivered his game-winning hit off loser Gerry Staley. Funk, who made his ninth appearance, now has won two games while losing one.

The Indians, off today, play Washington here Friday night.

Late Models, Amateurs On Canfield Program Saturday

Late model racing returns to Canfield Speedway on Saturday night to kickoff the 1961 season. They will share the billing with the new amateur division in an eight-race program, which will be headlined by two feature events.

Because of last week's cancelled card, drivers have an extra week to get their cars in shape and they are anxiously awaiting the opener.

BILL FORNEY of Youngstown, one of the district's busiest pilots, hopes to start in where he left off last year. Forney captured the final race of 1960 to win the Canfield late model championship.

Forney will be driving the 1957 Chevrolet. This is one of three cars Forney uses during the season. He has a 1959 Chevrolet for MARC new car races and a 1958 Chevrolet, built up for asphalt tracks.

Forney will be the driver to beat Saturday night.

His chief threat will be Jim Bickerstaff of Youngstown. Bickerstaff has a 1958 Ford. He purchased the car from Bob Greer, Hubbard police chief, during the

Yanks Trip Twins; Angels Nip Orioles

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees trimmed the Minnesota Twins 7-3 and drew into a tie with Detroit for the American League lead when the Tigers were beaten 5-4 at Washington Wednesday night. Cleveland beat the Chicago White Sox 4-3 the Los Angeles Angels defeated Baltimore 7-6 on two-out home runs by Ted Kluszewski and Earl Averill in the ninth inning, and Kansas City topped Boston 9-8 in 10 innings.

The Senators did it the hard way, coming from behind and then breaking a 3-3 tie on Dale Long's two-run double in the sixth off Frank Lary, who had won eight straight, four this season. Rookie Joe McClain won his third, although needing Dave Sisler's relief.

The Angels came from five runs behind against the Orioles, who scored all their runs on two homers by Jim Gentile and a solo shot by Whitey Herzog. Klu started the winning rally with his sixth home run, off losing reliever Skinny Brown (0-1). Tex Clevenger won his second in relief.

Oriole starter Chuck Estrada left the game after being struck above the right ankle by Ken Aspromonte's fifth inning line drive. And the Angels lost shortstop Ken Hamlin, who was carried off on a stretcher after colliding with Ken Hunt while chasing a fly in the ninth.

The Yankees scored three unearned runs in the fourth off Pete Ramos (2-1), then beat the Cuban right-hander with another unearned run in a four-run seventh. Hector Lopez' single drove in the clincher and Roger Maris capped the inning with a three-run home-

er. Bob Turley (3-1), was the winner.

A pinch single by Bob Hale broke it up for the Indians after a two-out double by Johnny Romano in the ninth. The White Sox tied it 3-all in their ninth before reliever Frank Funk cut them down for his second victory. Gerry Staley was the loser in relief.

The A's blew an 8-0 lead when the Red Sox scored twice in the seventh and then ganged up on Ray Herbert for six in the ninth that tied it. Kansas City finally nailed it when Andy Carey doubled in the 10th and Jerry Lumpe singled off reliever Mike Fornieles (0-1). Don Larsen was the winner.

15 Horses To Parade To Post

Carry Back Favored In Kentucky Derby

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Is Carry Back, who strikes from far back with power in the home stretch, your choice for Saturday's 87th running of the $125,000 add Kentucky Derby?

Or perhaps you favor a horse like Ambipolise or Flutterby, who prefer to lay closer to the early pace and attempt to overpower the opposition in the final one-eighth mile.

But if you like horses who break out of the starting gate like a missile, then your preference must be among Crozier, Globemaster, Four-And-Twenty or Shirluck.

There was strong argument for all of them, even the late running Dr. Miller, as the names of an expected field of 15 three-year olds were dropped into the entrybox at Churchill Downs today.

Carry Back became the No. 1 nominee when his trainer, Jack Price, dropped in the entry Wednesday.

If 15 parade to the post Saturday, the 1 1/4-mile run will be worth $163,000 with $120,500 going to the winner. Only one derby has been richer, in 1956 when Needles won.

Rain or shine, Churchill Downs is expected to be packed with its usual estimated crowd of around 100,000. With the official figures never announced by officials, it has become customary to say 100,000 or more.

Syracuse and Navy will play a home and home football series beginning with the first game on Sept. 18, 1965 at Annapolis.

Mustard-Glazed Lamb Has Tangy Flavor

Pork Chops, Apricots

1 can (1 pound) unpeeled apricot halves, juice of 1 small lemon (about 2 tablespoons), 4 loin or blade pork chops (½ to ¾ inch thick), salt and pepper, 1 medium-small onion (cut in thin strips).

Drain apricots; measure ½ cup of the syrup and mix with the lemon juice. Trim excess fat from around chops.

Grease a hot heavy skillet with a piece of the fat; add pork chops and brown slowly on both sides—about 10 minutes.

Sprinkle chops with salt and pepper. Add onion and half the apricot syrup and lemon mixture to skillet.

Cover and cook gently until chops are tender—about 30 minutes; add remaining apricot syrup mixture toward end of cooking and a little water if necessary. Makes 4 servings.

Cumin Biscuits

1 cup self-rising flour (unsifted), 1 teaspoon cumin seeds, ¼ cup butter or margarine, 6 tablespoons (about) milk.

Stir the cumin seeds into the flour; cut in the butter with a pastry blender until particles are fine.

Stir in the milk; all dry ingredients should be moistened but dough should be on the stiff side. Drop dough (with a spoon and spatula) into small buttered muffin-pan wells, filling about ¾ full.

Bake in a very hot (450 degrees) oven 12 to 15 minutes or until tops are browned. Serve at once. If muffin pan wells are 2-tablespoon capacity, there should be 10 to 12 biscuits.

Note: If self-rising flour is not available, use 1 cup unsifted all-purpose flour and sift with 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder and ¼ teaspoon salt. Then stir in cumin seeds.

Asparagus Vinaigrette

1/3 cup salad oil, 3 tablespoons red wine vinegar, 1 teaspoon of salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 can (1 pound) asparagus stalks.

Mix together thoroughly the oil, vinegar, salt, pepper, paprika, sugar, and onion.

Drain asparagus; cover with marinade. Refrigerate 2 or 3 hours before serving.

Nice with salad greens, sliced tomatoes and cucumbers. Makes 4 servings.

Try Spicy Baked Veal Chops

SPICY BAKED VEAL CHOPS (Yield: 4 servings)

4 shoulder veal chops (about 2 pounds), 1 egg, beaten, fine bread crumbs, 1 medium onion, sliced, 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup, ½ soup can water, 1½ tablespoons aromatic bitters, 1 teaspoon oregano, salt and pepper to taste.

Sprinkle chops with salt and pepper. Dip each chop first in egg and then in bread crumbs.

Brown slowly on both sides in skillet. Transfer chops to baking dish and place onion slices on top.

In a small saucepan mix tomato soup with water and heat until blended. Add aromatic bitters, oregano and salt and pepper to taste. Pour sauce over chops. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 minutes.

HOMEMADE POTATO BALLS

Peel potatoes and cover with cold water. With the largest size melon or potato scoop, scoop out balls from the raw potatoes. (The remaining odd shape pieces may be cut up and also used or cooked later for mashed potatoes).

Parboil the potato balls in boiling salted water for 5 minutes. Drain and let dry between two layers of absorbent toweling. Fry the potato balls in deep hot fat until brown. Drain on absorbent paper; sprinkle with salt and serve.

If you like to wash your refrigerator with warm water in which baking soda has been dissolved, remember that one quart of the water will need a teaspoon of soda.

Tipsy Cake Is a Trifled-With Trifle

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Even the English, sticklers for tradition, occasionally take liberties with their century-old dishes. For years and years the famous English Trifle was made with sponge cake, fruit, jam, sherry, custard and macaroons. Now we notice that the newest edition of Mrs. Beeton, best known of all English cook books, gives no less than half a dozen versions of this dessert.

We, too, have taken liberties with Trifle and have turned it into Topsy Cake. Our cake has a custard filling rather than a soft custard sauce, so the sponge layers stay on the firm side. For the spirit, we prefer rum to sherry.

You'll find this cake makes a superlative ending for a buffet supper. We dotted the whipped cream topping with tiny macaroons and candied violets and at our house this whimsical garnish made a great hit.

TIPSY CAKE
2 9-inch sponge cake layers, 1 cup apricot preserves, 1 cup white rum, 1 can (1 pound, 4 1/2 ounces) pineapple spears, custard, 1 cup heavy cream, 1 can (1 pound, 4 ounces) freestone peaches (drained and sliced).

Slice each cake layer in half to make 4 layers. Mix preserves and 1/2 cup of the rum. Spread bottom halves of cake with preserve mixture; replace tops.

Place one of the preserve filled layers in a deep serving dish; sprinkle with 1/4 cup of the remaining rum. Arrange half the drained fruit over cake.

Spoon 1 cup of the Custard over the fruit. Add second preserve-filled layer; sprinkle with remaining 1/4 cup rum; cover with remaining fruit and Custard.

Chill overnight. Before serving, top with whipped cream and garnish as desired. Makes 12 to 18 servings.

Custard
1/4 cup sugar, 2 1/2 tablespoons corn starch, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 cups milk, 1 egg (well beaten), 1 teaspoon vanilla.

In top of double boiler, mix together thoroughly the sugar, corn starch and salt. Add milk gradually, stirring until smooth. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens.

Cover and continue cooking 10 minutes longer, stirring occasionally; if using glass double boiler increase this time to 15 minutes.

Stir a small amount of the hot mixture into egg; at once pour back and blend into remaining hot mixture.

Cook over boiling water 2 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; stir in vanilla. Cool. Makes 2 cups.

Note: Have enough boiling water in bottom part of double boiler to leave drops on upper part when it is inserted and raised.

If after the first cooking period, water in the bottom of glass double boiler has evaporated considerably, add 1/2 cup boiling water.

Flavorful Wheat Germ Bread

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper, Enterprise Assn.

Try this loaf of homemade bread packed with nutrition and good flavor. It contains wheat germ (the heart of the wheat) which is rich in iron and the B vitamins and also adds a special flavor and consistency to the loaf.

HEART OF WHEAT BREAD
1 envelope dry yeast, 1/4 cup lukewarm water, 2 cups boiling water, 3 cups nonfat dry milk solids, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons shortening, 2 teaspoons salt, 4 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 1/2 cups wheat germ.

Pour the yeast into the lukewarm water; let stand to soften, then stir until dissolved. Into a large mixing bowl pour the boiling water; gradually whisk in the dry milk solids using an egg beater or electric hand mixer. Stir in shortening, sugar and salt, mixing well. Let cool to lukewarm.

Stir half of the sifted flour into the milk mixture, forming a batter. Add the softened yeast and stir well. Add the wheat germ and enough of the remaining flour to make a smooth, soft dough. Add more flour if necessary. Lightly flour a pastry board and place the dough on it. Cover with a bowl and let rest 10 minutes.

Knead the dough until smooth and elastic. The technique for kneading dough is to fold the dough over itself toward you, push dough with the heels of the hand away from you, then give a quarter turn and repeat. Continue for about 4 minutes.

Cut dough in half, make a ball of each half, cover with bowls and let rest 10 minutes. Shape into loaves and place, seam-side down, in two greased 9-inch loaf pans. Grease the tops of the loaves lightly, lay waxed paper over each and cover with a cloth. Let rise in a warm place until doubled in bulk (about 1 1/2 hours).

Bake in a 350-degree F. oven for 50 to 55 minutes. When done the bread should be fully risen with a rounded top. Loaves should sound hollow when tapped. Remove the loaves from the pans and let cool on a rack, away from drafts.

For a crisp crust neither grease nor cover the loaves while they cool. For a soft crust, brush tops of loaves with salad oil and cover with cloth for a few minutes to soften. If both loaves are not to be used within a day or two, wrap one when thoroughly cooled and freeze for later use.

Custards made with part undiluted evaporated milk usually have an interesting just slightly caramel flavor.

Snap Beans and Apples

1 pound snap beans, 2 2/3 cups boiling water, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 1/2 cups (4 medium-size) cubed, pared McIntosh apples, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Cut tips from beans; scrub in cold water; cut julienne-style. Cook beans in saucepan with boiling water and salt, covered, just until tender; drain, reserving 1 1/2 cups of the cooking liquid.

Melt butter in clean saucepan over low heat; stir in flour; add the 1 1/2 cups reserved bean cooking liquid; cook and stir constantly until slightly thickened.

Add the apples and cook until they are mushy. Stir in the sugar and lemon juice. Add the drained cooked beans and reheat. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Quick lunch: arrange sardines on buttered toast and cover with cheese sauce. Add a crisp salad.

When you are making candy, insert the candy thermometer in your mixture before you start cooking; let the thermometer remain in position during the whole cooking period.

We are making another parking lot in back of our old country store to take care of about a hundred more cars. This should help take care of our parking problem which our extensive advertising and many attractions have created.

Q—For how long has the District of Columbia been a territorial government?

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My boy friend gave me a wrist watch for my birthday. First I'd like to tell you that we are not teenagers. I am 26 and he is 30. He has a fine job, makes excellent money and buys the best of everything—for himself, that is. The watch he gave me stopped running the second day I had it. I didn't want to hurt his feelings so I had it repaired and said nothing. Four days later the crystal fell out and it stopped again, so I had it fixed once more. Last week the stem and the strap both broke. I took it to the jeweler again and he said it wasn't worth fixing. He claims the watch was second-hand when I got it and couldn't have cost more than $15 new. Shall I say something?—8:20 (THAT'S WHEN THE WATCH ALWAYS STOPS)

Dear 8:20: He didn't give you much of a watch, Honey, but you sure did get the works. Say nothing. Put the watch away and when your boy friend asks where it is, tell him you had it repaired three times and the jeweler advised you not to invest any more money in it.

Slight or Oversight?

Dear Ann: My problem ranks somewhere beneath the U.N. crisis in importance but I need some outside thinking.

Recently a close relative phoned to tell me of the death of a distant relative whom I had not seen in 20 years.

She said, "Of course you'll want to send flowers so why don't we pool our money and send a nice wreath together?"

Frankly I had no intention of sending flowers but I didn't want to appear cheap so I said yes. That same day I sent her my check for $7.50. It was agreed that she would handle it through her florist.

I learned the day after the funeral that the wreath was sent in her name only. Shall I let her know I'm aware of this or should I say nothing?—BURNED.

Dear Burned: Ask her to check with her florist and learn why THEY omitted your name from the card.

Name Problem

Dear Ann: I certainly did appreciate your telling off that woman who called an acquaintance "Mrs. Whatchamacallit" because her name was difficult to pronounce. I have a similar problem.

Our family name, because of the spelling, causes some people to mispronounce it. It comes out sounding like a vulgar expression.

When people who don't know any better make this mistake should I correct them? Or do you think that this would be a breach of etiquette?—MRS. IN DOUBT.

Dear Mrs.: It is perfectly proper to correct a person who mispronounces your name. If you do it gently and not imply that he did it intentionally there should be no hurt feelings.

Confidentially

TO GETTING GRAY: Tell him either-or—and make it stick. If you two wait until everything is perfect, you'll be too old to walk down the aisle. Someone will have to push the wheelchairs.

TO TORN TO PIECES: Your child has a name. If this is the only reason you can think of to go back to a man you describe as "selfish, abusive and lazy" I don't think much of the move.
